1. AT THE OUTSET OF THE PROJECT

1.1. Context of activity/programme.

Russian aggression in Ukraine has resulted in fundamental human rights violations affecting a number of vulnerable groups of Ukrainian citizens.

At the outset of the project at least 44 Ukrainian citizens were imprisoned on political grounds in the Russian Federation and occupied Crimea. People are sentenced to dozens of years in prison for “crimes” they did not commit, their conventional rights are systematically violated. In particular, in Russian-occupied Crimea Crimean Tatars as an ethnic-religious group are being persistently persecuted and intimidated, as are any persons disagreeing with the illegal annexation. Another element of the human rights problematics of the current international armed conflict is located in the East Ukraine unleashed by illegal Russian-backed paramilitary forces has led to extrajudicial killings, torture, rape, kidnappings, which means the emergence of a great number of civilians being deprived of the right to life and justice. Ukrainian citizens living in the territories not controlled by the government often have no access to justice and deserve special attention. Plus various Ukrainian army units and paramilitary forces resisting Russian aggression in East Ukraine commit many kinds of the same violations, which go uninvestigated (or are investigated ineffectively) by the Ukrainian law enforcement bodies. Crimes committed in conflict-affected areas often don’t get the proper attention as Ukrainian authorities are unwilling to investigate wrongdoings of their own servicemen.

The perpetrators of the gross human rights violations against Ukrainian citizens in Russia and in occupied Crimea remain unpunished.

Ukrainian law enforcement bodies often don’t take necessary action to protect the fundamental human rights of vulnerable parts of the Ukrainian population. Corruption in the law enforcement system and the lack of political will to investigate cases in the conflict-affected areas make justice an elusive task for civilians who have already suffered from warfare.

The abovementioned problems are exacerbated by insufficient international coverage by Ukrainian media about these violations, as well as the consequent lack of awareness and/or action by the international community, allowing Russia to continue the same policies with impunity.

1.2. General objectives.

The project was aimed to find remedies to the list of problems in the following manner.

By conducting journalistic investigations the project was ought to disclose the nature of human rights violations in the Eastern Ukraine and shine a light on the perpetrators of these violations, bring the attention of the society as well as the responsible law enforcement bodies and other media.

The systemic informing of the international institutions, national governments, and Ukrainian diaspora communities on the illegal persecution of Ukrainians by Russia was aimed at contributing to the growing outcry and foreign pressure on Moscow. Turning the problem of Kremlin's hostage-taking policy into a permanent item of international political and humanitarian agenda and revealing the infringements that Russia tends to keep secret will increase the price of the violations of Ukrainian prisoners' rights and make them less likely.

Drawing the international public attention to the suppression of Crimean Tatars and Muslim believers in annexed Crimea is expected to prevent the neglect of political repression in this region as either Russia's "interior" affair or an issue limited to the negotiations between the Kremlin and the West. It will help to engage human rights activists, media, celebrities, and decision-makers from Muslim countries into the work to counter ethnic and religious discrimination imposed there by the occupation authorities.

Some of the victims of human rights violations from eastern Ukraine and Crimea will be provided with full package of primary and secondary qualified legal assistance (victims of crimes committed by representatives of Russian-backed forces and occupation authorities as well as Ukrainian Armed forces and MIA). Therefore, the assisted victims will obtain access to justice. Furthermore, they will feel much more secure and protected and won't lose faith in justice. The perpetrators of the respective crimes committed against the assisted victims as well as the society as a whole will eventually understand that punishment for crimes is inevitable. In the long run (after the completion of the respective proceedings and bringing the perpetrators to justice), the cases of victims assisted by the legal team of the project will establish important precedents for the prevention of such crimes and, therefore, contribute to the improvement of human rights situation.

As a result of the project, the list of persons responsible for grave human rights violations against Ukrainian citizens in the Russian Federation and Crimea will be prepared in cooperation with the lawyers from the Ukrainian Helsinki Human Rights Union (UHHRU) who provide legal aid to the victims. At the moment we are looking for the financial support to conduct an international advocacy campaign aimed at imposing the personal economical and visa sanctions against these persons and use a mechanisms of a universal jurisdiction against them.

1.3. Target groups.

The target groups were defined as follows: people in need of direct assistance (namely the Ukrainian victims of human rights violations perpetrated by Russia and their family members), Ukrainian law enforcement bodies (the National Police, the Prosecutor's Office, particularly the special Crimean Prosecutor's Office and the Military Prosecutor's Office, and the Security Service of Ukraine: according to Ukrainian law, these bodies are responsible for the investigation of violent crimes), Ukrainian and international journalists (there is always a need to deliver information on important cases of human rights violations and their investigation to society, but journalists are not always aware of the latest developments), Ukrainian and international politicians and diplomats, who are in charge of making decisions at the state and interstate levels, general public, both inside and outside Ukraine.

- The understanding of inevitability of punishment for the crimes committed in Ukraine during the armed conflict by the International community is created. This is a daily international agenda. The targeted sanctions which one of the main goals of the project participants are unlikely to be imposed so fast (in one year), but at least the list of the perpetrators and the evidence will be prepared and the issue of the targeted sanctions against those violated the grave crimes is on the table in Ukraine as well as in EU and US.

Legal team has participated in the number of investigative actions and in the court hearings in the above mentioned cases. Lawyers provided assistance to the families of the detainees in terms of getting the social guarantees from the state (family of Kozlovskyi, Shabratskyi).

2.1.2. Monitoring missions and Journalism investigations

Starting from August 2017 to July 2018 journalists of Media Initiative for Human Rights conducted at least 14 monitoring trips to the ATO zone in Donetsk and Luhansk regions as well as to the other regions in order to conduct journalism investigations (Volnovakha and Mariupol in Donetsk region, Kostyantynivka in Donetsk region, Kramatorsk and Pokrovsk in Donetsk region, Odesa, Pavlograd and Dnipro in Dnipropetrovsk region, Pokrovsk in Donetsk region, Severodonetsk in Luhansk region, Konotop in Sumskyi region, Novoaidar in Luhansk region, Poltava, Rivne).

1 Olha Reshetylova in Kryakivka, Luhansk region

As a result, journalism investigations were published and new facts were discovered about the victims of the armed conflict.

1. In particular, in the course of one of the trips MIHR visited court hearings in the case of the Russian serviceman Viktor Ageev. We've figured out that Ukraine doesn't have any evidence of Ageev being a soldier of Russian army. <https://ua.newwest.media/article/2017/11/26/ih-tam-taki-niet>

This finding was caused a significant resonance in Ukrainian and Russian media. Materials with the reference to Media Initiative for Human Rights were published under the following links: https://censor.net.ua/photo\_news/464208/prokuratura\_ignoriruet\_pokazaniya\_i\_uliki\_dokazyvayushchie\_prichastnost\_diversanta\_ageeva\_k\_armii\_rf, <https://novynarnia.com/2017/11/27/prokuratura-vzhe-ne-vvazhaye-agyeyeva-viyskovim-rf-schob-obminyati-v-orlo/>,

2. MIHR discovered connection between the death of two Ukrainian border guard officers and kidnapping of the other two border guard officers Martson and Dziubak from Ukrainian territory. Later developments proved the findings of the investigation: Ukrainian border guard officers were exchanged to the Russian FSB officers who were earlier arrested by Ukrainian side near the occupied Crimea.

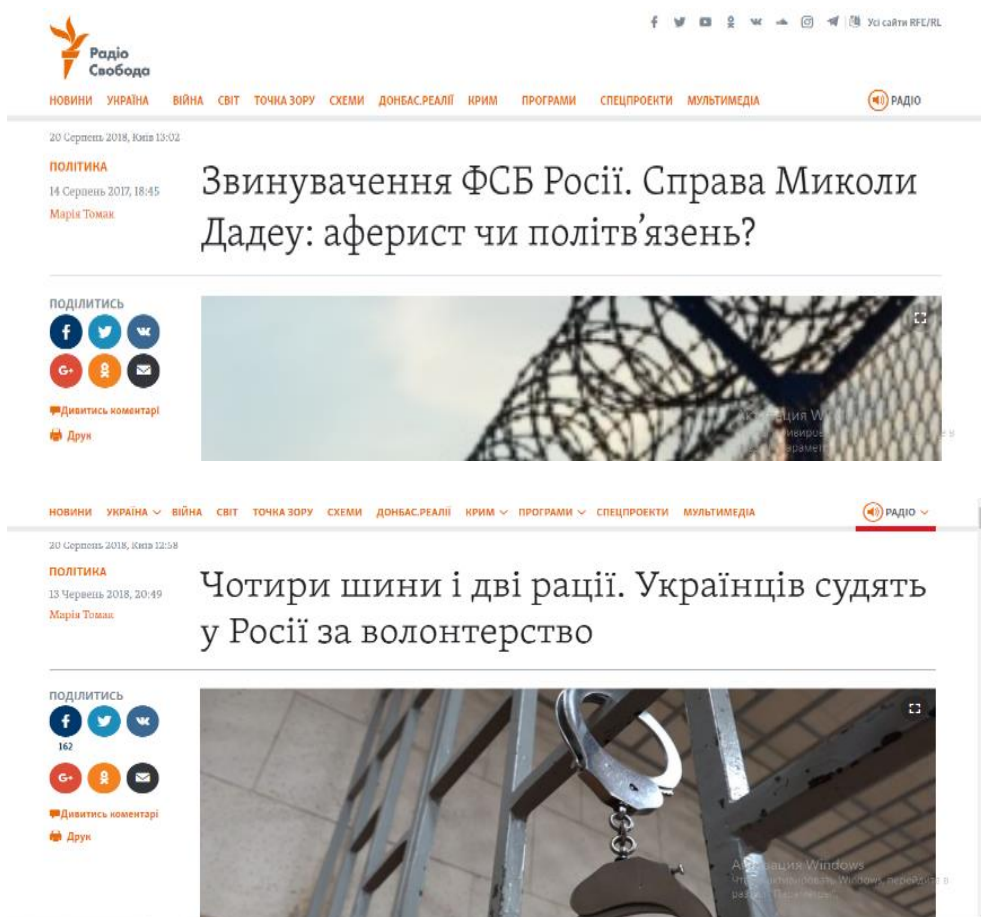

The investigation was published under the link

<https://ua.newwest.media/article/2017/10/31/rozhitati-kordon>

3. MIHR also conducted a series of journalism investigation on the story of one of the Ukrainian citizens, who was sentenced by Russian authorities for political motives. It was published at the Radio Liberty web-site <https://www.radiosvoboda.org/a/28676201.html>, <https://www.radiosvoboda.org/a/29289191.html> It has drawn attention to the issue of new cases of political persecutions of Ukrainian citizens in Russia and raised an important issue of criteria, which should be used to identify those persecuted for political reasons.

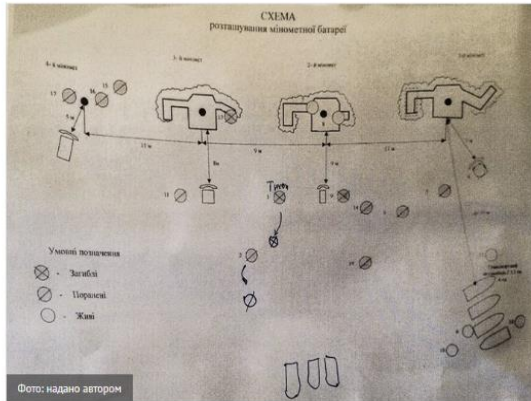

Later Mykola Dadeu himself got in touch with MIHR, providing the detailed information about his arrest and using of the excessive force by Russian law enforcement. Maria Tomak published it at her FB-page, it was reported in Ukrainian as well as Russian media Samples: <https://hromadskeradio.org/news/2018/07/20/ty-hohol-znachyt-tebe-14-sutok-z-lysta-mykoly-dadeu>, <https://graniru.org/people/2847/>

4. As a result of the investigation, which was conducted in the course of the few years a material on lb.ua was published, describing the problem of explosion of the Molot arming, which lead to deaths of a number of Ukrainian military servants. https://lb.ua/society/2018/07/12/402651\_molot\_kovadlo\_i\_rosiyska\_ruletka.html

This material, supported by the unique documents and sources, again raised an attention of society, media and decision makers, caused an attack on Olga Reshetylova of the internet trolls, interlinked with the state and with Ministry of defence in particular.

У нашому розпорядженні опинилася схема розташування мінометної батареї, яку використовує слідство. Від руки очевидці виправили неточності.

Ствол міномету внаслідок вибуху розірвало на шматки, цілою залишилась лише нижня частина, менше 40 см довжиною.

5. In the course of the project MIHR also conducted an investigation related to the case of killing of the civilian person in Donetsk region - Volodymyr Nazdrychkin. In this investigation Maria Tomak published an evidence of the involvement of the fighters of Ukrainian battalion K-2 to the crime as well as the proves of the ineffective investigation, conducted by the national law enforcement bodies. It was published at hromadske.ua web-site together with the video, filmed by the journalists of Hromadske. Publication of the text was important since earlier there were only rumors and suspicions, but no comprehensive facts were published. After the publication of this journalism investigation family of the killed civilian felt more secure and protected due to the publicity, they obtained the hope for the justice. <https://hromadske.ua/posts/vbivstvo-volodimira-nazdrichkina>

6. Investigation, dedicated to the Russian citizens, arrested in Ukraine in the context of the international armed conflict. It includes the stories of three persons, who were arrested and sentenced by Ukrainian side. To write this story, journalist Olga Reshetylova travelled to the Eastern Ukraine to attend court hearings in the cases of Kimakivskiy, Gratov and

Chubarova. <https://censor.net.ua/resonance/3069898/kogo-z-zatrimanih-abo-z-asudjenih-rosyan-ukrana-mogla-b-vddati-za-vyaznv-kremlya>

2.1.3. Activities of the Euromaidan Press

During the project Euromaidan Press gathered a database of contacts interested in the topic of Ukrainian prisoners jailed by the Kremlin on political motives and sent 9 newsletters (they are available under the link <https://us12.campaign-archive.com/home/?u=7bdde59c3f36a3071ebc921b3&id=e33e692c80>).

Info campaign before the 2018 FIFA World Cup in Russia

Euromaidan Press initiated an open letter signed by world intellectuals including Timothy Snyder and Anne Applebaum calling upon political leaders to boycott the World Cup until Russia releases political prisoners. It was covered by the number of media including Open Democracy. It was signed by many outstanding personalities, in particular, by Yuriy Andrukhovych, Ivan Andrusiak, Antoine Arjakovsky, Marieluise Beck, Mark Bielorusetz, Andriy Bondar, Mustafa Dzhemilev, Svetlana Gannushkina, Rebecca Harms, Yaroslav Hrytsak, Edward Lucas, Myroslav Marynovych and others. <https://www.opendemocracy.net/od-russia/open-letter-in-support-of-ukrainian-political-prisoners>

When it comes to international advocacy, it is important to mention, that by working with Josh Cohen of the Atlantic Council, we got coverage of the issue of political prisoners in this leading media urging Ukraine to take a more proactive stance on the issue of hostages and reiterating the conclusions of the report on the historical experience of releasing hostages. These articles were translated in Ukrainian media.

<http://www.atlanticcouncil.org/blogs/ukrainealert/why-isn-t-ukraine-doing-more-to-free-its-hostages>

<http://www.atlanticcouncil.org/blogs/ukrainealert/russia-holds-70-ukrainian-hostages-captive-but-won-t-budge-here-s-five-steps-ukraine-should-take-now-to-free-them>

The idea of boycott the World Cup became a part of the international art exhibition, created by the Media Initiative for Human Rights jointly with our partners. The exhibition was presented in London, Brussels, Ankara, Rzeszow and in Ministry of foreign affairs in Kyiv for the foreign missions and international organizations in Ukraine. All these events took place before the football tournament and were used by the project team to promote idea of boycott and to raise awareness about the problem of political persecutions.

- LetMyPeopleGo campaign highlighted the hunger strikes of the political prisoners in a series of infographics which were widely disseminated in social media. We supported the activities of the Ukrainian and pro-Ukrainian activists abroad in supporting Ukrainian political prisoners on the social media accounts of Letmypeoplego in facebook and twitter and on the website letmypeoplego.org.ua, thus supporting grassroots activities helping the cause of political prisoners.

- "Zaberite Svoih" campaign, initiated by Media Initiative for Human Rights, and supported by the activists aimed at intensifying of bilateral release of those arrested by the both sides of the conflict - Ukraine and Russia. MIHR published a series of original posts at the FB, highlighting the stories of the arrested Russian and Ukrainian citizens. Igor Kimakovskiy (<https://bit.ly/2vY3cD1>), Ruslan Gadzhiev (<https://bit.ly/2L9FmZR>), Aleksei Sedikov (<https://bit.ly/2BE3TqH>), Valerii Gratox (<https://bit.ly/2MpII0t>), Olga Kovalis and Pavel Chernykh (<https://bit.ly/2L5rvnq>), Kirill Vyshynskiy (<https://bit.ly/2weeP8q>).

2.1.5. Advocacy and events

At least 10 Ukrainian MPs are involved in advocacy actions aimed at an effective investigation of human rights violations:

1. Iryna Gerashchenko (Prisoners of Kremlin, constant interaction, meetings, coordination)
2. Maria Ionova (Prisoners of Kremlin, communication and coordination as regards to legislation)
3. Ehor Sobolev (Shabratskiy Case, MP's request)
4. Svitlana Zalishchuk (Prisoners of Kremlin, communication and coordination as regards to the Oleg Sentsov case and as regards to the legislation)
5. Hanna Hopko (Prisoners of Kremlin, communication and coordination as regards to the international advocacy)
6. Andrii Teteruk (Molot Case, provided the possibility to participate in the hearing of the Parliamentary Committee on defence)
7. Igor Lutsenko (Prisoners of Kremlin, communication and coordination as regards to legislation)

8. Iryna Suslova (Prisoners of Kremlin, communication and coordination as regards to legislation)

9. Sergiy Kyril (Prisoners of Kremlin, meeting as for the draft law on Ukrainian Magnitskyi act)

10. Iryna Podoliak (Prisoners of Kremlin, communication and coordination as regards to the Oleg Sentsov case).

Moreover, Media Initiative for Human Rights provided significant advocacy support to the families of illegally held Ukrainian citizens, in particular, to Oleg Sentsov, Stanislav Klykh, Oleksii Syzonovych, Ihor Hryb, Oleksander Shumkov, Crimean tatar community representatives.

In particular, in the case of Ukrainian border guard officers Martson and Dziubak, who were kidnapped by Russia: - We have put them in touch with Ministry of foreign affairs of Ukraine, who were not willing to meet them right after the kidnapping of Martson and Dziubak

- We have found Ukrainian lawyer - Olena Storozhenko, who agreed to provide them with legal assistance pro bono
- We have found an independent Russian lawyer, who agreed to provide the legal assistance to both officers
- We have forced Ukrainian border guard service to provide assistance to the families in order to help them to pay the fees to the independent lawyers
- We were constantly in touch with the families and with MFA until an exchange happened.

A number of advocacy meetings held by NGOs including Media Initiative for Human Rights, with Ministry of Foreign Affairs (including minister Klimkin himself), Ministry of temporarily occupied areas and IDPs (including Minister Chernysh) as well as with Iryna Gerashchenko resulted in including to the budget 2018 a point (around 90 million of hryvnia) for the needs of support of Ukrainian citizens, illegally held at the occupied areas and in Russia, including establishing of the special division responsible for the assistance to the political prisoners in the Ministry of temporarily occupied areas and IDPs. The concept of such division was prepared by MIHR jointly with partners (it is attached) and was presented by coordinator of MIHR Maria Tomak in the Ministry of temporarily occupied areas in Summer 2017. <http://council.mfa.gov.ua/ua/press-center/mfa-news/50773-ministr-zakordonnih-sprav-ukrajini-pavlo-klimkin-mi-borotimemosya-za-zvilynennya-kozhnogo-ukrajincyja-jakogo-derzhava-agresor-nezakonno-i-svavilyno-peresliduje-piddaje->

When Oleg Sentsov went on hunger strike, MIHR organised for him a meetings in Kyiv with Iryna Gerashchenko, deputy head of Presidential Administration Kostiantyn Eliseev and representatives of Ministry of foreign affairs.

Project team members were initiating and participating in the numerous events, related to the priorities of the current project.

1. Press-conference, dedicated to the case of Pavlo Hryb, where the first-hand information was delivered from his father and lawyer https://www.youtube.com/watch?time\_continue=571&v=ZDCA3-g1hoU

2. Press-conference dedicated to the presentation of the infographics on the trends of suppression the peaceful assemblies after the occupation of Crimea. The infographics was prepered by MIHR in the frames of the project and presented jointly with partners <http://uacrisis.org/ua/61554-occupied-crimea-no-right-to-protest>

One of the fundamental human rights being consistently restricted since the occupation of Crimea by the Russian Federation is the right to freedom of peaceful assemblies ensured by the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms. Thuggish attacks of so called 'Crimea Self-Defense' and other 'non-identified persons' on the events supporting the territorial integrity of Ukraine, abductions and murders of their participants in the spring of 2014 have gradually transformed into unlawful administrative and criminal persecutions of peninsula event initiators and participants by occupational law enforcement agencies and Crimean 'courts'.

Repressions against the protesters in Crimea are of very different nature. From mass detentions and dozens of cases started after the meeting of the Mejlis leaders at the peninsula administrative border in May of 2014 to arrests of single activists in summer of 2017. From persecutions of those who participated in the protest events before the complete establishment of the occupation regime to those who tried to express their civic position after the annexation already. Both retired people unknown for anyone before and well-known public and political figures, both Ukrainians and Crimean Tatars, get under the repressive roller.

In order to discourage forever from any wish and readiness to express any protest moods, the occupation powers represented by 'police', 'prosecutor's office', and 'courts' apply administrative and criminal persecution instruments. But as to face down Crimea turned out not to be an easy task, tactics of the occupiers concerning the peaceful event participants changes all the time. For instance, when the occupation powers have understood that administrative arrests do not help and fail to reduce protest activity, the 'courts' have started imposing enormous fines on the detained.

Therefore, backed with extending the all-Russian practices of peaceful assembly freedom restrictions on the occupied peninsula, a purely Crimean – more brutal and repressive – practice is being developed, too.

This infographic presents basic facts and major trends on restricting the freedom of peaceful assemblies for the previous three years since the Crimea occupation start. The review has been prepared by Ukrainian human right organizations and is based on the monitoring of the human rights situation on the peninsula as well as on the cases supported by the lawyers in the European Court for Human Rights.

PRIS#NERS OF THE KREMLIN

Invisible victims of an undeclared war

Violations of the fundamental human rights of Ukrainian citizens illegally deprived of their freedom by the Russian Federation on Russian territory and occupied Crimea

AS OF MID-OCTOBER 2017, AT LEAST 59
UKRAINIAN CITIZENS HAVE BEEN DETAINED
FOR POLITICAL REASONS IN DIFFERENT
REGIONS OF THE RUSSIAN FEDERATION AND IN OCCUPIED CRIMEA.
32 OF THEM ARE CRIMEAN TATARS.

These are people of different nationalities, denominations, professions and political views. Among them are journalists, activists, farmers, miners, directors, teachers and students. Most of them are proactive in public and political life and actively voice their political stance; some just happened to be at the wrong place at the wrong time.

21 of the 59 prisoners have also been sentenced by Russian courts and/or occupation authorities in Crimean courts: from 1.5 to 22.5 years in prison.

in 2017 only, 18 persons were detained. Most of these arrests took place in Crimea.

The Investigative Committee and the Federal Security Service of the Russian Federation prosecute "Kremlin prisoners" by charging them falsely for common criminal offences and invoking so-called anti-extremist and anti-terrorist legislation, the purpose of which is to punish and convict all active protestors. For example, for publicly stating that Crimea is Ukrainian, a person can be sentenced to five years in prison.

These people are, in fact, hostages. Moreover, Russia uses these criminal cases mainly for propaganda campaigns to discredit Ukraine.

The detention of "Kremlin prisoners", as they are called by their human rights advocates, in prisons and penal colonies in Russia and Crimea is accompanied by gross violations of their basic rights. This is what we would like to demonstrate in this exhibition.

The last successful negotiations, which ended with the release of two Ukrainian citizens, were organized with the help of Turkey in fall 2017. Nonetheless, the number of Kremlin prisoners continues to rise steadily. Thus far, only 8 persons out of several dozens were released.

"KREMLIN PRISONERS"
ENDURE BEATINGS,
BRUTAL TREATMENT AND TORTURE

Many detainees are subjected to severe stress and pressure - both physical and psychological - especially in the early stages of investigation, when law enforcement agencies try to force them to confess to offences that they have planned to indict them with.

At least twelve people were, in their own words and in statements provided by their lawyers, subjected to "brutal torture".

The occupation authorities and the authorities of the Russian Federation refuse to investigate these accusations of torture, thereby actually recognizing their involvement in these violations.

Methods of illegal physical abuse include beatings, electric shocks, and strangulation. Psychological methods includes threatening different relatives, asserting that "Ukraine has abandoned you", and inflicting different kinds of pressure and humiliation.

Seeing that Russian and occupation authorities try to conceal the victims of torture, it is rarely possible to document relevant traces on their body. However, in cases involving Stanislav Klykh, Renat Paralamov, Yevhen Panov, and Oleksandr Kostenko, there is evidence suggesting that these persons have been subjected to several acts of torture.

In most cases, the names of torturers remain unknown. Moreover, they cannot be recognized because security and law enforcement officials usually wear a balaclava over their head to perform such delicate work.

THE CASE AGAINST RENAT PARALAMOV

Renat Paralamov was tortured in the autumn of 2017; torture was used so openly that it struck even those who systematically monitor human rights violations in occupied Crimea.

Moreover, the injuries and mutilations were documented.

Paralamov was found with traces of beatings and torture at the train station in Simferopol (the capital of the occupied Autonomous Republic of Crimea). He had been illegally detained in the FSB premises in Crimea for two days.

What he described about the events that preceded his release is, essentially and unfortunately, a reflection of daily occurrences in the annexed Crimea: kidnappings by "siloviki" (official security goons) with a bag placed over the head, beatings, use of electric shocks, then signing of a protocol with "confessions to crime" and accusations against friends and neighbours.

Today, Renat is safe.

VIOLATION OF THE RIGHT TO A FAIR TRIAL

STANISLAV KLYKH AND HIS DEFENSE ATTORNEYS DURING THE TRIAL IN MOSCOW

STANISLAV KLYKH AND HIS DEFENSE ATTORNEYS DURING THE TRIAL IN MOSCOW

One way or another, all the cases against the "Kremlin prisoners" have violated their right to a fair trial. Such violations include illegal and politically motivated persecution.

In a resolution dated October 2017, the European Parliament listed 47 names, calling them "de facto political prisoners".

The Russian investigative practices are ranging from outright fabrication of documents and evidence to invention of names for the victims, staged and unconvincing witnesses for the prosecution, manipulation of basic evidence, unfair approaches to the assessment of defense and prosecution arguments. As a rule, the court and the prosecutor's office act jointly as the prosecutor.

In the end, the actions of Sentsov, Kolchenko and Ananayev, who, according to Russian legal practice, should be qualified as hoodlums at the most, are viewed as terrorism.

The idea that independent justice actually exists in the annexed Crimea is impossible given the conditions imposed by the occupation authorities.

In the case against convicted Maidan activist Mykola Shpytur, the "court" openly wanted to evaluate the events of these past years in Ukraine, draw some subjective conclusions regarding the nature of the Euromaidan events in 2013-2014 and to use them to fabricate an offence and conviction.

Crimean "courts" also resort to retrospective application of the law. They investigate and pronounce sentences that they link to events that took place before the Crimean occupation. For example, they refer to the "February 26 Case", whereby Mustafa Dzhemendzhi and Ali Asanov are being prosecuted for allegedly participating in mass riots in Crimea before its annexation by the Russian Federation.

Regardless of the ban, prescribed by international humanitarian law, on occupation authorities applying their own criminal law in the occupied territories, Russia resorts to this practice in Crimea, for example, by charging people with criminal offences for membership in organizations that are not prohibited in Ukraine.

THE CASE AGAINST STANISLAV KLYKH

STANISLAV KLYKH DURING THE TRIAL IN MOSCOW

A number of Ukrainian citizens illegally held by Russia is critically ill.

Several authoritative non-governmental organizations (such as Amnesty International and the Royal College of Psychiatrists (UK)) have voiced their concerns about the mental state of Stanislav Klykh. The latter addressed the Presiding Judge of the Supreme Court of the Chechen Republic with the suggestion to carry out an independent assessment of Klykh's mental health. The query, though, was never satisfied by the Chechen court. Stanislav Klykh was sentenced based on fabricated evidence to twenty years in a penal colony in Chelyabinsk Oblast in Ural.

Demands and requests for an independent psychiatric examination have been systematically ignored by the Russian authorities.

Instead, in the summer of 2017, Klykh was transferred to a hospital for several weeks, where human rights activists suspect that he was administered psychotropic drugs.

His condition is getting worse. His mother, who visited him in October 2017, said that she had to admit – although it was very difficult for her – that her son was mentally ill. A year ago, he was aggressive, and now, following his "treatment" at the hospital, he is "like a defenseless child".

Klykh had not suffered from any psychological or mental disorders before his imprisonment in Russia.

After his arrest, he endured brutal torture which left traces on his body (arms and legs), and the Ukrainian consul and independent lawyers had no access to him. Essentially he was held incommunicado for 10 months.

Klykh's testimony, extracted under torture, was used to build an absurd criminal case, whereby Russia tried to post an international search alert for Arseniy Yatsenyuk, the former Prime Minister of Ukraine.

RESTRICTIONS ON FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION

SINCE THE BEGINNING OF THE OCCUPATION OF CRIMEA, RUSSIA HAS INTRODUCED A POLICY OF TOTAL RESTRICTION ON FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION – FROM JOURNALISTS, WHO WERE KIDNAPPED BY "UNIDENTIFIED PERSONS" IN THE SPRING OF 2014 TO REAL PRISON TERMS FOR SIMPLY STATING THE FACT THAT CRIMEA IS OCCUPIED.

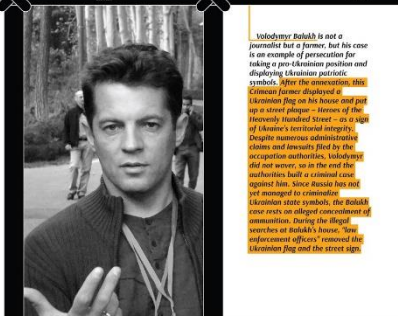

ALMOST ALL THE INDEPENDENT JOURNALISTS HAVE BEEN FORCED TO LEAVE CRIMEA: SOME OF THEM HAVE BEEN PLACED ON THE SO-CALLED "LIST OF EXTREMISTS", WHICH WAS CREATED BY THE RUSSIAN MINISTRY OF JUSTICE AND IMPOSES A NUMBER OF ILLEGAL RESTRICTIONS.

Another Ukrainian journalist, Roman Shcherbatiy, is held in Russia on suspicion of espionage.

The case against Mykhailo Semenov, a Radio Liberty journalist, who was sentenced for one publication, in which he called "a spade a spade" with regard to Russia's actions in Crimea, became the epitome of persecution. Mykhailo Semenov was given a conditional sentence. But at the same time, he was banned from engaging in public activities, which the journalist himself called a ban on freedom of speech, on freedom of information, and on journalism as a profession.

Mykhailo Semenov was persecuted according to the law on "public calls for separation", which was introduced into Russian criminal law after the annexation of Crimea.

Volodymyr Babchuk is not a journalist but a farmer, but his case is an example of persecution for taking a pro-Ukrainian position and displaying Ukrainian patriotic symbols. After the annexation, the Crimean farmer displayed at Ukrainian flag on his house and put up a street plaque – Heroes of the Heavenly Hundred Street – on a sign of Ukraine's territorial integrity. Despite numerous administrative claims and threats filed by the occupation authorities, Volodymyr did not sever, so in the end the authorities built a criminal case against him. Since Russia has not yet managed to criminalize Ukrainian state symbols, the Babchuk case sets an alleged precedent of persecution. During the illegal searches at Babchuk's house, "law enforcement officers" removed the Ukrainian flag and the street sign.

THE CASE

AGAINST

PAVLO HRYB

Pavlo Hryb, a 19-year-old citizen of Ukraine, was abducted during his private visit to Belarus and transferred to a prison in the Russian city of Krasnodar. He suffers from a chronic disease called "portal hypertension", which, according to his doctors, requires certain drugs and special nutrition that he does not receive in the Russian prison. His condition can deteriorate at any moment, causing severe internal bleeding in the stomach area or esophagus.

In mid-October 2017, Ukrainian doctors tried to visit Pavlo. They arrived in Krasnodar, but were denied access by Russian security services.

According to Vasyl Prytula, Professor at the Bohomolets National Medical Institute, Pavlo Hryb's condition can be qualified as relatively serious. But, given the conditions in Russian prisons, he believes that Pavlo's condition is critical.

The Russian prison administration has also forbidden to pass on medical drugs that Pavlo requires for maintaining his health.

Ukrainian citizen Pavlo Hryb, 19 years old, is held in Russia on suspicion of espionage.

THE EXHIBITION WAS PREPARED FOR YOU BY

Media Initiative for Human Rights (MIHR) is a Ukrainian NGO which was launched in September 2016 by Maria Tomak, a journalist and human rights activist, and Olga Keshchynska, a journalist and civic volunteer. It aims to combine investigative journalism and human rights defence to combat human rights violations in Ukraine and provide legal and advocacy support for the victims.

Maria Tomak has been working with the problem of political prisoners since summer 2014, which includes managing the cases, advocacy, and assistance for the families of detainees. Ukrainian citizens kept in detention for political reasons are one of the priority issues for MIHR.

Let's Stay People's Press (LSP) is an online English-language independent newspaper launched in 2014 by Ukrainian volunteers. LSP focuses on events covering Ukraine and provides translations of Ukrainian news and expert analysis as well as independent research. Through its work, LSP strives to bridge Ukraine with the English-speaking world. The plight of the Ukrainian prisoners of the Kremlin is a special topic for LSP, as the outlet works to raise awareness about the victims of Russia's undeclared war against Ukraine among foreign audiences as part of the Let's Stay People's campaign.

Ukrainian Association of Public Organizations (Ukrainian Helsinki Human Rights Union (UHHU)) is a non-profit organization, founded by 15 public human rights organizations in 2004. UHHU's mission is realization and protection of rights and freedoms by promoting practical implementation of humanitarian articles of the Helsinki Final Act, other international laws based on it and all other obligations accepted by Ukraine as to the protection of human rights and fundamental freedoms. It's major activities are focused around constant monitoring of human rights and fundamental freedoms in Ukraine, protection of human rights and fundamental freedoms in courts and state bodies, drafting laws etc.

Design of the project was created by Anna Gavryliuk.

RESTRICTIONS ON THE RIGHT TO PROTECTION AND PROSECUTION OF LAWYERS AND HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVISTS

IN THE CASES OF "CRIMEAN PRISONERS", there has been a systematic practice of restricting the right to legal protection and access to a lawyer.

The most obvious cases are those of Mykola Kanyuk and Stanislav Kyklyk, who, after being arrested on the Russian border and territory of Russia, respectively, were hidden for more than a year in prisons and solitary confinements in the North Caucasus until lawyers and human rights activists finally found them.

Veselin Panov and Volodymyr Duda, who were arrested in Crimea for "planning subversive activities", were also isolated for some time from independent defense lawyers. The main purpose was to fabricate evidence against them and force them to confess.

In general, the role of several independent lawyers - the last bastion of protection for the Kremlin prisoners - can hardly be overestimated; therefore, some of them have been persecuted in connection with their activities.

For example, a well-known Crimean lawyer, Emil Karabedov, who represents several prisoners in a number of political cases, was persecuted by the occupation authorities, and sentenced to ten days in solitary confinement for allegedly publishing on social networks any back in 2015 materials banned in the Russian Federation. Clearly, this arrest was politically motivated. The occupation authorities were obviously trying to intimidate him and deprive him temporarily of doing his job as a human rights lawyer.

Attempts have also been made to intimidate lawyers from Russia who came to Crimea to defend some political prisoners. For example, Nikita Polozov was threatened (he himself confirmed this) in the centre of Simferopol by 3 law officers in order "to be questioned as a witness".

The most recent example of persecution of human rights activists is the arrest of several members of the Crimea Solidarity NGO - Serhii Salivayev and Iulian Amosov. They were arrested twice in October 2017 for participating in unauthorized peaceful gatherings, but in fact for documenting illegal actions of the city police forces during illegal searches in compact homes of Crimean Tatars, and expressing disagreement with such actions. By arresting and accusing them of terrorist activity, the occupation authorities actually deprived them of exercising their right as human rights activists.

ILLEGAL TRANSFERS FROM OCCUPIED CRIMEA TO THE TERRITORY OF THE OCCUPYING STATE (RUSSIAN FEDERATION)

This is a major violation, which can be qualified as a war crime, that has prevailed since Crimea was occupied and annexed. The process of transferring convicted Ukrainian citizens from Crimean detention centres is not voluntary, but is carried out forcibly and brutally. Some prisoners protest against such transfers and suffer physical injuries, but such protests are ignored by Russia. According to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Ukraine, this concerns several hundred people, but human rights activists estimate that there are several thousands. Thanks to the agreement between the Ombudsman of Ukraine and Russia, for the first time in three years of occupation, 16 convicted Ukrainian citizens were transferred from Crimea to mainland Ukraine.

We should not forget the cases where Ukrainian citizens are kidnapped and transferred from the non-controlled territories of Donetsk and Luhansk oblasts. This was the case with Nadiya Savchenko. There are reasons to believe that the same happened in the case of the recently sentenced Russian pensioner from occupied Krasnodar, Olexsandr Syronovych, who, according to the ISB, was allegedly preparing a terrorist act on the territory of Russia. His trial consisted only of two hearings, which resulted in him being sentenced to 12 years in prison.

After conviction, Ukrainian prisoners usually end up in Siberia or in prisons somewhere beyond Ural. Despite the European Court of Human Rights case-law which stipulates that a convicted person must be detained as close as possible to his place of residence, Russian authorities do the exact opposite, sending Ukrainian political prisoners thousands of kilometers away from their homes.

• For the first time it was presented in London (Great Britain) by Alia Shandra. In cooperation and with the support of the Ukrainian Embassy in the UK, members of the British Parliament and other partners, there was an exhibition held in one of the buildings of UK parliament. The exhibition is dedicated to human rights violations in the cases of Ukrainian political prisoners in occupied Crimea and in Russia. Media and well-known experts were presented at the event, which included also a panel discussion about the prisoners as a tool of a war. This event was highlighted in British media, including Sky News.

• It was also presented in Ankara (Turkey) at the event, organized by Embassy of Ukraine for the representatives of the diplomatic missions in Turkey. More than 20 diplomats attended the event. Maria Tomak was invited there as a speaker.

- Panel discussion about prisoners in Rzeszow (Poland) during the economic forum Ukraine-Poland, in which Maria Tomak and Olga Reshetylova participated, was accompanied by the exhibition.

- In Brussels (Belgium) exhibition was presented by Maria Tomak during the One World documentary film festival.

- Finally, the exhibition was presented by Maria Tomak at the event, organized by the Ministry of foreign affairs of Ukraine in Kyiv and dedicated to the problem of tortures.

- International meetings and forums, mentioned in the plan (PACE sessions, OSCE HDIM, UN Human Rights Council) were outreached via our colleagues, who passed the materials of MIHR and Euromaidan Press and have presented them there.

- A list of perpetrators of gross human rights violations (accompanied by the evidence) is prepared by Media Initiative for Human Rights jointly with partner organizations, namely Ukrainian Helsinki Human Rights Union. This list was passed to the number of the decision makers, in particular, to the MEPs in Brussels during the advocacy trip, to Lithuanian parliamentarians, as well as to the Netherlands Embassy, UK Embassy in Kyiv, as well as to the Department of State in Washington.

2.1.7. Reports

2 reports with an analysis of the human rights violations committed against the Ukrainians imprisoned in Russia on political motives and the course of their investigation are published.

First report “Prisoners of war: International Practice as to Release of POWs, Civilian Detainees and Political Prisoners. Conclusions for Ukraine” was dedicated to the strategies and tools for securing the release of war prisoners, hostages of other armed conflicts and political prisoners in different countries. The report's goal is to attract attention to the issue of negotiations for the release of those Ukrainian citizens who, according to the Ukrainian human rights community and government, have been detained by Russia for political reasons in connection with the conflict. It is also important to once again emphasize the need to define the legal status of persons held in connection with the conflict, since the Law of Ukraine "On the peculiarities of state policy on the restoration of the state sovereignty of Ukraine over temporarily occupied territories in Donetsk and Luhansk Oblasts", which was adopted on 18 January 2018, while this report was being prepared, failed to resolve this issue.

Second report was published in English "Ukrainian prisoners of the Kremlin" was prepared back in Autumn 2017 with the latest updated information on the cases of political prisoners, with support of the International Renaissance Foundation, who provided part of the support for Euromaidan Press for the activities of the project. Thanks to the support of the Ukrainian MFA, 1000 brochures of the report were printed and distributed throughout Ukrainian embassies and diplomatic venues. The pdf version is available here http://letmypeoplego.org.ua/wp-content/uploads/2017/11/LMPG\_56\_big.pdf

2.2. Further information if different to planned activities or problems identified:

That was the first big project for the organization, and were some problems with planning the budget. In the end of the day, we didn't manage to spend the whole amount. For instance, since publishing of the reports were financed by our partners (Ukrainian Helsinki Human Rights Union and Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Ukraine), we didn't spend the funds, which were provided for printing the reports (15000 hrn); project team conducted more monitoring trips, but there are still funds remain for this activity, which were not spend (14600 hrn).

2.3. Actual implementation period: July 2017 - July 2018

2.4. Further information if different to planned implementation period

- Journalism investigation on the killing of civilian Nazdrychkin was prepared in the frames of the project, but due to the technical reasons, related to the preparing of the visual materials by the hromadske.ua, the text was published after the end of the reporting period, in August 2018

- Since one of the team project member was not able to fulfill his duties, we've engaged another person (Tetyana Katrychenko), who was involved in developing investigations, as well as additional materials, which are going to published in Autumn 2018.

3. ASSESSMENT

3.1. Assessment of the activities / programmes by the project team

All of the planned activities were carried out. Moreover,

- The team of the project was involved in more international events, than was indicated in the application and which were related to the problematics of the project (namely, in London - UK parliament, in Ankara - Ukrainian Embassy in Turkey, in Brussels - during the advocacy meetings with EU bodies in Belgium).

- Legal assistance was provided to more victims, that it was planned (in particular, 5 applications were submitted to the European Court for Human Rights in the frames of the project, while there were only 2 planned).

- More events were initiated and conducted related to the advocacy goals of the project, first of all, at the national level (cross-department meetings, meetings with decision makers).

- More journalism investigations were published.

- More monitoring missions were conducted.

3.2. Goals achieved

Nº	GOAL	RESULT
1	At least 100 national and 35 international media pieces are produced where project participants transmit messages related to the goals of the project.	Done (Annex 2, 3)
2	At least 50 pieces covering human right violations and the Ukrainians undergoing political persecution by the Kremlin are published on euromaidanpress.com, at least 6 videos are produced	Done (Annex 4)

3	Legal assistance to at least 10 victims of human rights violations is provided	Legal assistance was provided to 25 victims of human rights violations, a number of victims of human rights violations obtain access to justice by receiving a full package of qualified legal assistance (both primary and secondary) provided by the legal team of the project. In 7 of the above mentioned cases (Nazdrychkin, Kostakov, Shabratskyi, Kryakovtsev family, Shaymardanov, Chernysh, Vashchuk) the team of lawyer and MIHR coordinated their activities in order to make them as effective as possible. As a result, the case of Chernysh was transferred to the Crimean Prosecutor's office; the translations of the journalism investigations of MIHR as regards to the missing persons in Crimea (they were conducted in the frames of the other project, but translated due to this project) were uploaded and transferred personally to the representatives of the UN Working group on missing persons during the meeting in Kyiv. Therefore, a number of victims of human rights violations feel more secure and protected due to the qualified legal assistance and media support received and don't lose faith in justice. The progress achieved in the

3.3. Have the overall goals been achieved?

Yes, overall goals have been achieved.

3.4. Has the target group been reached?

Yes, target groups indicated in the application were achieved: people in need were provided with the direct and indirect assistance by the legal team, Ukrainian law enforcement bodies were outreached by both legal team and MIHR, Ukrainian and international journalists were involved by activities of MIHR and Euromaidan Press, Ukrainian and international politicians and diplomats were covered by meetings and materials, initiated by MIHR and Euromaidan Press, general public, both inside and outside Ukraine were reached first of all due to the wide media outreach of the project.

3.5. Conclusions as regards the skills of the implementing body.

Involvement of the NGOs and actors working with different aspects in the context of human rights provided the possibility to work with the indicated problems (political prisoners, human rights violations in Donbass) from the different angles: law, media, national and international advocacy. This approach is worth to continue.

In terms of the management, obviously, there should be a separate person, dealing with the administrative issues, since intensive activities of the Media Initiative for Human Rights does not allow to fulfill in parallel the administrative functions in an adequate manner.

3.6. Suggestions for the future/lessons learned

In terms of the priorities of the project:

- the work should be continued with the problematics of Ukrainian citizens, illegally detained in Crimea and in Russia, since their number is constantly growing. At the same time, only few of them are widely known by the public;
- the issue of the sanctions is very perspective and has to be continued in terms of international advocacy and building up national sanctions policy;

- the efforts of MIHR over the joining the capacity of different NGOs is extremely important, this is what allows to keep attention of the international community to the issue of political prisoner, unlike the hostages in Donbas, which are literally forgotten;

- the coalitions are important and fruitful (jointly with Ukrainian Helsinki Human Rights Union we've developed a report, which becomes even more actual, as well as the draft law on protected persons, which is going to solve lots of problems);

- there should more efforts put in order to conduct an investigations into the situation with human rights violation in the Eastern Ukraine starting from 2014, there are lots of unknown episodes, which deserve attention and need a control from the civil society;

- there should be a separate monitoring and analysis of the court hearing as regards to the cases related to the international armed conflict at the territory of Ukraine: this refers to the cases related to the situation in the Eastern Ukraine (violations from different sides) and to occupied Crimea.

In terms of the management:

- dividing of the functions (there should be a separate person dealing with the management);

- we should include in the plan regular coordination meetings and at least two strategic planning sessions with the team project in order to coordinate our efforts.
